ABOUT THE BRAND

Harvesta is a brand of the farmers, by the farmers, for the people. It is the brainchild of Koyana Agro Industries Ltd.; a public limited company with state of the art machinery and technology owned by over 951 farmers with only the best of workforce and management across the industry. To add to this, Harvesta also comes with over 2 decades of experience and vision to provide you with products that are the need of the hour. The company (Koyana Agro Industries Ltd.), since its inception, has done white label manufacturing for several multinational companies as also for the big players in the Indian market. It is now, after mastering the manufacturing process and knowing precisely what the customers want today, that the company has come up with its home brand Harvesta.

Harvesta is the reflection of its owners, the proud farmers, who have dared to put their tag on these products. The farmers have proudly done so as they know that only the best of ingredients go into the production of Harvesta. The ingredients used for Harvest products are grown and nurtured by these farmers as also their fellow farmer buddies who toil hard in their fields with a constant smile on their faces.

PRODUCT RANGE

Harvesta believes in providing the customer with products made with ingredients grown on the lands that are untouched by pollution and taken care of with love by the farmers. Apart from this fact, it is only a few personally selected ingredients that go into the manufacturing of final products that are worthy of being branded as 'Harvesta', and believe us, you can indeed taste the difference.
